ABOUT LEAH

Leah Edmond is a founding face of Major League Volleyball and one of the league's most decorated players. She was the first athlete signed in league history, the inaugural MVP in 2024, and the first player to reach 1,000 career kills, milestones built entirely with the Atlanta Vibe, the only professional team she has called home.

A four-time AVCA All-American at the University of Kentucky, where she earned her degree in Elementary Education and left as the program's all-time kills leader, Leah has always been defined by more than athletic achievement. She is a faith-driven competitor, an advocate for women's sport, and a deeply Atlanta-rooted presence building a platform to last beyond the game. She also brings her experience to SEC Network and ESPN as a volleyball analyst and sideline reporter.

BRAND STATEMENT

I am motivated by challenges that allow me to compete at the highest level while building something that lasts. Beyond the court, I am committed to creating a stronger foundation for the next generation through education, representation, and opportunity. My goal is to make an impact that extends far beyond my playing career.
